Long History, Busy Industry, Great Cash Surplus

This Auckland-wide sales & maintenance business consistently produces a steady profit – cash surplus in excess of 300k per annum.

With a strong trading history, exceptional financial performance, and with the same directors at the helm for almost 30 years, this business has clearly established itself and is well recognised within their industry as being a company that works at the premium end of the commercial and domestic markets.

The business specialises in maintenance, repair and install of a variety of air conditioning and ventilation systems which means multiple revenue streams and financial stability with steady cash flow.

This business will best suit someone with industry experience and relevant qualifications, or perhaps a company already active in the air conditioning space rather than someone with sales and marketing background. However, the owners have indicated they will assist with a thorough handover for up to 12 months if required and tell us the new owner will be in good hands as they employ only the best.
